1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- › Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- › Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene linked to their SEND and age
- › Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence, autonomy and empathy
- › Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- › Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies
- › Ensure pupils have a good knowledge of choices and how to make informed decisions
- › Prepare pupils for adult life through the generalization of skills and knowledge linked to relationships and sexual education
- › Contribute to the positive ethos and culture which promotes the development of sustained, positive relationships and behavior for future life

2. Statutory requirements

As a maintained Special School with EYFS, Primary, Secondary and Post1 6 setting we ensure that:

Our Primary Department provides relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

However, we are not required to provide sex education but we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

Our Secondary Department provides RSE to all pupils as per the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching RSE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Hebden Green we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been originally developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a member of staff or working group pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all teaching staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations linked to Pathways
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties, including governors were invited to feedback around the draft policy through a letter
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE curriculum in Pupil Council

5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with all stakeholders and considered the needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained member of staff to is able to adapt learning to meet the needs of pupils. Pupils may also learn about Sex and Relationship Education through targeted programmes such as 'Talk About.'

In the Primary Department Relationship education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- › Families and people who care for me
- › Caring friendships
- › Respectful relationships
- › Online relationships
- › Being safe
- › Awareness of self
- › Sex education-puberty

For more information about the RSE curriculum content, see Appendices 1 and 2.

In the Secondary Department RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- › Families
- › Respectful relationships, including friendships
- › Online and media

- › Awareness of self
- › Being safe
- › Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2. For further information, see the Pathway Curriculum

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing board

The governing board will approve the RSE policy, and hold the head teacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The Head teacher

The head teacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- › Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- › Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- › Monitoring progress
- › Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- › Ensuring skills and knowledge are generalised and applied across the curriculum, where appropriate
- › Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the Head teacher.

All teachers may be expected to teaching RSE and all Teaching Assistants may be required to support.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Primary Aged Pupils

Parents of Primary age pupils do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents of Primary age pupils have the right to withdraw their children from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of sex education within RSE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the head teacher.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

Secondary Aged Pupils

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the head teacher.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The head teacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their ongoing training package within the school. Individual CPD is used where needed.

Where needed, the head teacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by Danielle Lamb through:

- Whole school curriculum development
- Focused learning walks
- Lesson Observations
- Peer to peer work developed through the Pathway structure

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed Danielle Lamb annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by [the governing board and Head teacher.
